An approval was not given for two reasons. Number one, I did not speak with Tammy Simon, who spoke with the client, until 2:02pm. The second is that Eileen's email raised a red flag.

The money transferred should have been transferred by Crown Forex with an internal wire transfer instead of a internal bank transfer. Because ownership and signers are not the same or overlapping, the money should be deposited into Oxford Global via check or wire. The accounts are not related. Therefore, the transfer will be reversed (money taken out of Oxford Global and returned to Crown Forex) and Crown Forex will be instructed to transfer via internal wire transfer the $600,000 in question. After this internal wire has been verified, I will provide approval for this order to purchase cash. The owner of Oxford Global will be notified that funds will not be available until Thursday next week.

The funds are collected. They were transferred into this account from [REDACTED] 1705 per phone request authorized by Lien Sarles on April 30th.

The account in question for the $600K withdrawal, [REDACTED] 2331, is Oxford Global FX LLC and has one signer - Trevor G. Cook.

The account where the transfer came from, [REDACTED] 1705, is Crown Forex LLC and has two signers - Pat Kiley & Julia Smith.

Chari

Tammy Simon is the Bus Bkg Team lead reporting direct to Steve Bianchi. She is to contact the customer and confirm that the 1.4 million on deposit is truly collected.

Eileen and Dave-bringing you in per Chari's directive.

I checked the Oxford account this morning. The emanager wire from Crown Forex has not posted yet....apparently there is something that the wire dept has to do on their end when a wire is requested and that will not happen until after 8 when the wire dept is up and running. I will let you know when I see the wire posted and the internal transfer to correct the transaction from 4/30 can be made at that time.
